

POSITION YOUR COMPANY FOR SUCCESS

The Central Ohio Aerospace and Technology Center (COATC) is offering 350 prime acres for business development. Currently, COATC is home for six of the top 20 Department of Defense contractors totaling more than 900 employees and an annual payroll of over $50 million.

Our strategic location provides companies with easy access to major rail and highway transportation. The Heath-Newark-Licking County Port Authority supports this ongoing development with strong financial incentives, a foreign trade zone, creative financing from local banks, two and four-year education options, outstanding quality of work life amenities, and access to a highly skilled workforce.

And it's all within 500 miles and a one-day truck drive to over 60% of the population of the U.S. and Canada

Several leading aerospace and technology based companies are already on site. Boeing, the U.S. Air Force, Lockheed Martin, BAE SYSTEMS, and Bionetics have active facilities in place. The presence of these top companies and an active foreign trade zone, means COATC is the place where today's high-tech businesses come together to develop tomorrow's global trade opportunities.
